Odisha Universities Amendment Act put on hold by top court

PNN & AGENCIES

New Delhi, May 20: The Supreme Court Friday put Odisha Universities (Amendment) Act, 2020 on hold for three months while seeking response from the state government in connection with the Act. The next hearing on the matter will be held after two months, it was learnt.

The Orissa High Court had earlier upheld the validity of the Act. However, the University Grants Commission and a professor had moved the SC challenging the decision of the HC. In its affidavit, the UGC had said the Act was in conflict with UGC Regulation-2018 issued under the University Grants Commission Act, 1956.

However, the state higher education department claimed that the stand of UGC is limited to the Amendment Act while dealing with the appointment of vice-chancellors and other teaching staff of universities. The Act has been in the limelight as it seeks to bring appointments to important academic and administrative posts in universities under the state government's control.

Three of the four accused in the sensational gangrape and murder case were minors

Commission, citing lapses in the investigation of the case, says all 10 policemen should be tried for murder

AGENCIES

New Delhi, May 20: A Supreme Court-appointed commission said four gangrape and murder accused, including three minors, who were killed in a police encounter in Hyderabad in 2019, were deliberately fired upon with intent to cause their death. The commission recommended that all 10 police officers should be tried for murder.

The commission's report said: "In our considered opinion, the accused were deliberately fired upon with an intent to cause their death and with the knowledge that the firing would invariably result in the death of the deceased suspects."

During the hearing Friday, a bench headed by Chief Justice NV Raman did not agree with a counsel's contention that the report of the commission should be kept in a sealed cover. The bench said: "This relates to the encounter case. There is nothing to keep here. The Commission has found someone guilty." It added, "We want to send the matter to the high court."

According to the report, three of the four were minors. "We are of the opinion that at the relevant time, Jollu Shiva, Jollu Naveen and Chintakunta Chennakeshavulu were minors," added the report.

The commission cited lapses in the investigation of the case and said all 10 policemen should be tried for murder. "The different acts committed by each of them were done in furtherance of common intention to kill the deceased suspects," added the report.

Bhubaneswar, May 20: Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik Friday inaugurated three industrial projects and performed groundbreaking ceremony of 10 other projects involving total investment of ₹1,218 crore.

These diversified projects ranging across food processing, tourism, paper/packaging, manufacturing, and polymers and plastic sectors will create potential employment for over 3390 persons in the state. These industrial projects are located across various districts including Balasore, Khurda, Bargarh among others.

Congratulating the companies, the CM said Odisha is fast emerging as a major manufacturing hub in the country for sectors ranging from metals and minerals to food processing. "Targeting the development of a conducive environment for industrial development, my government has always endeavored to provide a hassle-free and prompt doing business environment for the investors in Odisha," Patnaik said.

He said the state's relationship with the industries has been fruitful both in the context of economic development and also social development. One of the key reasons why Odisha was able to post a successful fight against the Covid-19 pandemic was this synergistic government-industry relationship, he pointed out. The Chief Minister further said: "We were able to quickly re-purpose various industrial units to manufacture and deliver critical services during the pandemic period. As we move out of the pandemic, the government's focus on the 5T philosophy towards the development of the industrial sector has further strengthened."

HIT BY TRAIN, THREE JUMBOS SUCCUMB

POST NEWS NETWORK

Keonjhar, May 20: Three elephants, including two calves, were killed after being hit by a goods train in Keonjhar district, forest officials said Friday.

The accident took place near Bansapani under the Joda forest section of Champua range when a herd of around 20 jumbos was crossing the railway tracks at around 7.30 pm Thursday.

One elephant calf, aged 5, died on the spot, while a female pachyderm, aged 20, and another calf, aged 5, succumbed to their injuries Friday morning, a forest official said. Following the accident, the elephant herd prevented forest officials from carrying out rescue operations, he said.

"The forest department personnel were monitoring the elephant herd movement throughout the day. The railway authorities were also informed about presence of the elephants there and speed of the train was contained at 25kmph. The accident took place due to darkness," another senior forest official said. Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (Wildlife) Shashi Paul visited Keonjhar and took stock of the situation. Paul held talks with forest and railway officials about the safety of elephants.

Monkeypox spreads in West, baffling scientists

The outbreaks are raising alarm because the viral disease, which spreads through close contact and was first found in monkeys, mostly occurs in west and central Africa, and only very occasionally spreads elsewhere

ASSOCIATED PRESS

London, May 20: As more cases of monkeypox are detected in Europe and North America, some scientists who have monitored numerous outbreaks in Africa say they are baffled by the unusual disease's spread in the West.

Cases of the smallpox-related disease haven't previously been seen among people with no links to central and West Africa. But in the past week, Britain, Spain, Portugal, Italy, the US, Sweden and Canada all reported infections, mostly in young men who hadn't previously travelled to Africa.

France, Germany, Belgium and Australia confirmed their first cases of monkeypox Friday.

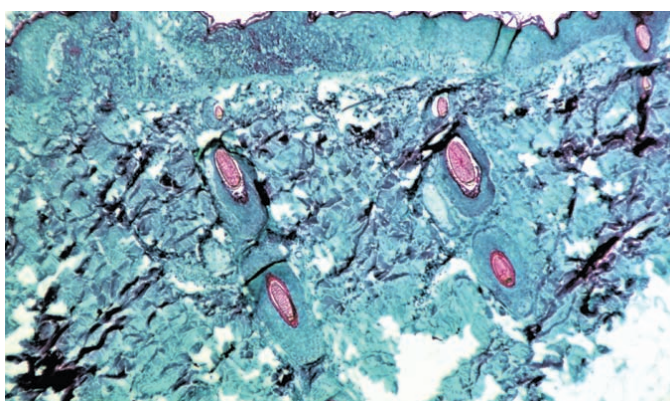

"I'm stunned by this. Every day I wake up and there are more countries infected," said Oyewale Tomori, a virologist who formerly headed the Nigerian Academy of Science and who sits on several World Health Organisation advisory boards.

"This is not the kind of spread we've seen in West Africa, so there may be something new happening in the West," he said.

One of the theories British health officials are exploring is whether the disease is being sexually transmitted. Health officials have asked doctors and nurses to be on alert for potential cases, but said the risk to the general population is low.

Outbreaks in Nigeria, which reports about 3,000 monkeypox cases a year, are usually in rural areas, where people have close contact with infected rats and squirrels, according to Tomori. He said the disease does not spread very easily and that many cases are likely missed.

Tomori hoped the appearance of monkeypox cases across Europe and other Western countries would further scientific understanding of the disease.

The WHO's lead on emergency response, Dr. Ibrahim Soce Fall, acknowledged this week that there were still "so many unknowns in terms of the dynamics of transmission, the clinical features (and) the epidemiology."

British officials have so far reported nine cases of monkeypox, noting that the most recent cases have all been in young men who

Finally, Ramco gets SPCB notice

POST NEWS NETWORK

Jajpur, May 20: The Odisha State Pollution Control Board (SPCB) has served a show-cause notice on Ramco Cement over pollution in Dharwasala area of this district, seeking its replies within 15 days on alleged violation of environment protection norms. The development comes after 10 days of publication of a report on alleged inaction by the pollution watchdog in Orissa POST.

In the show-cause notice, the SPCB has warned that legal proceedings will be initiated against the cement plant authorities if the latter fail to file satisfactory replies.

Locals alleged that the inaction, despite glaring violation of pollution norms by the plant, was due to the bonhomie between the firm's management and the administration & some influential leaders.

People of peripheral villages such as Sribantpur, Guaranga, Khunta, Batijanga, Bhaturoposi, Tolara, Thanuala, Jogada, Muraripur, Nanapur, Haridaspur, Bhadanga, Bajabati and Rathia have alleged that they have been bearing the brunt of air and water

As per SPCB norms, there should a green cover around the plant to ensure safety to the villages. Locals, however, said no such green cover has been created here. Besides, the plant has no solid waste management system as prescribed in Environment Protection Act.

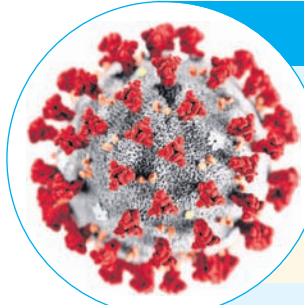

Earlier, upset over pollution, locals have approached the subdivisional magistrate by furnishing documentary evidence on pollution and violation of norms by Ramco Cement Plant March 23, 2022.

Hearing the case March 28, the magistrate had directed the managing director and the public relations officer of Ramco Cement Plant to appear before the court April 12 along with necessary documents. However, the officials had not appeared before the court, triggering anger among the locals.

SPCB regional officer Pramod Kumar Behera admitted that the SPCB investigation had found air and water pollution by Ramco Cement. A report in this regard was submitted to the SPCB in March. A show-cause notice has been issued to Ramco Cement. Pollution status in the areas will be reviewed after 15 days, he added.

As per the guidelines of the government, tractors purchased by farmers under Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) scheme for agriculture mechanisation should be owned by the beneficiaries at least for a period of five years from the date of its registration.

According to sources, many beneficiary farmers of the DBT scheme sell their tractors to avail financial benefit, violating the government norms. Due to this, the objective of the scheme has not been archived yet.

PLANT 50 TREES, HC TO KAKATPUR TEHSILDAR

PNN & AGENCIES

Cuttack, May 20: The Orissa High Court has ordered Kakatpur tehsildar to plant 50 saplings as a penalty for imposing a fine on a poor woman without hearing her case of encroachment last year.

Mita Das of Kakatpur in Puri was residing in a thatched house built on a government land for which the local tehsildar Biranchi Narayan Behera had instituted a case against her under Odisha Prevention of Land Encroachment Act in July 2021. Behera imposed a penalty of Rs 1,004 on her reportedly without hearing her case and issued show-cause notice September 15 last year; it was learnt.

Later, Das moved the HC alleging that the tehsildar had imposed fine without hearing her case.

After hearing the petition, the single-judge bench of Justice Biswanath Rath said that the tehsildar has the responsibility to find whether the encroacher is an educated and law-knowing person or not.

"Once an encroacher volunteers to appear, the tehsildar if finds there is no written response from him (encroacher), at least should provide one more opportunity to file his response to find the reason on his residing over such plot and if a person is landless or not? Even after filing of show cause, there should not be passing of orders in encroachment proceedings mechanically," the HC said, ordering the tehsildar to plant at least 50 saplings in CDA area of Cuttack.

The court also directed Revenue and Disaster Management department and Law department to ensure that the tehsildars do not to repeat such mistakes in future.

High Court denies bail to Chilika MLA

AGENCIES

Cuttack, May 20: The Orissa High Court Friday rejected the bail application of MLA Prasanta Kumar Jagadev and directed the Chilika legislator to surrender for his judicial custody by May 23.

Steps will be taken against him if he failed to comply, Justice Shatrughna Pujahari ruled.

The lawmaker has at least a dozen criminal cases pending against him and is now suspended from the party.

He was arrested March 12 this year by the Banapur police when he drove his car into a crowd with an intention to "murder his political opponents'. Several persons, including some police personnel, were injured by the car, which had a fake number plate, it was learnt.

"Such indulgence and overt act can never be treated as becoming of a public representative. That apart, the series of criminal cases attached to his antecedent speak against his credibility to abide by condition, if any, imposed in case of his bail, more so when he has also not abided by earlier bail conditions," the judge said rejecting his bail application.

On the health concerns expressed by the MLA, the judge said he could seek any medical check-up or treatment while in judicial custody.

Jagadev is now on interim bail granted by the High Court on health grounds.

Cold virus behind 1L child deaths in 2019: Lancet

A common virus that usually causes cold-like symptoms was responsible for more than 1,00,000 deaths in children under the age of five across the globe in 2019, according to a new study published in The Lancet journal.

The study is the first to examine the Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV) disease burden in narrow age brackets, reporting that there were over 45,000 deaths in infants under six months old in 2019, with one in five of the total global cases of RSV occurring in this age group.

"RSV is the predominant cause of acute lower respiratory infection in young children and our updated estimates reveal that children six months and younger are particularly vulnerable," said research co-author, Harish Nair, from the University of Edinburgh, UK.

"This is especially with cases surging as Covid-19 restrictions are easing around the world and the majority of the young children born in the last two years have never been exposed to RSV (and therefore have no immunity against this virus)," Nair said.

The researchers noted that with numerous RSV vaccine candidates in the pipeline, the estimates by narrower age ranges help to identify groups that should be prioritized.

These include pregnant people so that children in the youngest age groups can be protected, similarly to current strategies which offer vaccines for whooping cough, typhoid, and tetanus to pregnant people, they said.

The findings are broadly consistent with previous estimates from a 2015 study, which placed the number of annual cases of RSV in children up to five years old at 33.1 million, resulting in a total of 118,200 overall deaths, the researchers said.

However, these updated calculations of RSV mortality on global, regional, and national levels for the year 2019 include modelling data from over a hundred new studies, they said.

This allowed researchers to provide estimates for narrower age groups - including from 28 days to six months old, which is known to be the age range with the highest RSV fatality rate - and community mortality rates—deaths that did not occur in a hospital.

Across the globe in 2019, there were 33 million RSV-associated acute lower respiratory infection episodes in children under five years old, leading to 3.6 million hospital admissions, 26,300 in-hospital deaths, and 101,400 RSV-attributable deaths overall, the researchers said.

This accounts for one in 50 or 2 percent of annual deaths from any cause in this age range, they said.

For children under six months old, there were 6.6 million RSV-associated acute lower respiratory infection episodes globally in 2019, according to the researchers.

There were 1.4 million hospital admissions, 13,300 hospital deaths, and 45,700 overall deaths attributable to RSV in this age range, accounting for one in 50, or 2.1 percent of annual deaths from any cause, they said.

Based on estimates of in-hospital versus overall RSV mortality rates, globally only 26 percent or approximately one in four RSV-associated deaths occur in a hospital.

This is particularly apparent in low- and middle-income countries, where the in-hospital case-to-fatality ratio for children under five is 1.4 percent, compared to 0.1 percent in high-income countries.

Overall, 97 percent of RSV deaths in children under five occurred in low- and middle-income countries.

BRAJARAJNAGAR BYELECTION

Over 100 BJP workers join BJD

HEALTH MINISTER NABA DAS ASSERTED THAT PEOPLE OF BRAJARAJNAGAR HAVE COME TOGETHER TO BACK THE STRONG LEADERSHIP OF CHIEF MINISTER NAVEEN PATNAIK

POST NEWS NETWORK

Jharsuguda, May 20: As the byelection to Brajarajnagar Assembly segment draws closer, the Biju Janata Dal (BJD) got a shot in the arm Friday, when more than 100 party workers of Lakhanpur block joined the regional party at a hotel here. BJP's district unit executive member Malay Acharya, former sarpanch Tankadhar Pradhan, Basudev Pradhan, Rajkumar Singhdeo, Ganga Pradhan, Dileswar Biswal, Pandari sarpanch Subasini Sahu, Remanda sarpanch Sushant Nayak, Gourang Sahu, women leaders like Dipanjali Bhoi, Sanjukta Sahu among scores of workers joined the ruling party, saying they were inspired by the leadership of party supremo and Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik. A merger meeting was held under the chairmanship of Jharsuguda MLA and Health Minister Naba Das at a hotel here. Ministers Arun Sahoo, Niranjana Pujari, MP Prasanna Acharya, former minister Snehangini Chhuria, MLA Budhadev Mishra, assistant observer Bishnu Prasad Kedia were present at the meeting. Addressing the meeting, the health minister asserted that people of Brajarajnagar have come together to back the strong leadership of Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik. Meanwhile, the BJD and BJP have stepped up their campaign ahead of the byelection scheduled for May 31 while Congress seems to be lagging behind. BJD's state women's wing president Snehangini Chhuria had earlier held a meeting of party leaders at Belpahar. Health Minister Naba Das, party's district observer Subhash Singh and deputy observer Bishnu Prasad Kedia held a meeting at Belpahar later, brainstorming on strategies to gain support of voters.

It was learnt that Kishore Mohanty had won the election by a margin of 70,000 votes. The health minister has asserted that party nominee Alaka Mohanty (Kishore's wife) will win the bypoll by a margin of 50,000 votes. Previous general election in 2019 had witnessed a tough fight between BJD and BJP. For quite a long time, Assembly constituency was a bastion of CPI. The party candidate and former MLA late Prasanna Panda had won this seat six times - 1961, 1967, 1974, 1985, 1990 and 1995. Similarly, Congress candidate Upendra Dixit had represented the Assembly segment three times - 1971, 1977 and 1980. Subsequently, Congress candidate Anup Sai got the mandate three times from 2000 to 2009. The first bypoll to Brajarajnagar was necessitated following the death of former MLA Panda December 26, 1997. The bypoll had then witnessed a tough contest between Congress candidate Keshab Sahu (who won with 28,476 votes) and BJP candidate Radharani Panda (who lost by 27,954 votes). However, in 2014 general elections, BJP candidate Radharani won the seat by defeating her nearest contender Anup Sai who had this time fought with a BJD ticket. In 2019, the BJD fielded Kishore Mohanty from Brajarajnagar Assembly constituency segment and he won by defeating BJP's Radharani.

EOW nabs ponzi firm owner from UP

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, May 20: The Economic Offences Wing (EOW) of Odisha Police has arrested the owner of a ponzi firm, which functioned in the garb of a digital company, on the charge of duping a large number of people from Odisha with promises of huge returns from Uttar Pradesh's Vrindavan. Prince Kumar, who is a resident of Muzafaarpur in Bihar and the director of Digital Revolution Technologies Limited, has also been accused of giving false assurances to the people that their investments would double within one year although the company has no commensurate or real business activity to pay high returns, the EOW said. He was produced before the chief judicial magistrate court in Mathura and is being brought here for trial. A case has been registered against the accused for criminal breach of trust, fraud and forging, besides provisions of the IT Act, Prize Chits and Money Circulation Scheme (Banning) Act, 1978 and the Odisha Protection of Interests of Depositors (in Financial Establishment) Act, 2011, the agency said. It was registered on the basis of an enquiry report relating to allegations that from March 2020 onwards Kumar and his firm duped investors across Odisha with false assurances of high returns under its different schemes involving various digital and online products. The EOW said that the company also issued forged documents and misappropriated about Rs 1.5 crore invested by the gullible people of the state. However, the sum is feared to go far higher as this company had investors from many states especially in Maharashtra, Bihar, UP, Delhi, West Bengal, Odisha and Chhattisgarh. On the modus operandi of the company, the EOW said that it collected huge money from investors by misleading them that it was running successful Indian versions of WhatsApp, YouTube, Amazon, email, online/digital gaming, digital payment and Netflix among others. Kumar as the director of Digital Revolution Technologies Limited had conducted meetings at Balasore and Bhadrak in January 2020, made wide publicity to convince investors that the company wished to strengthen India through digital platforms and information technologies with the tagline 'Your Own Digital Revolution Marketing' and was committed to global digitalisation.

Renewable energy lifeline to ending climate change: UN chief

Highlighting that renewable energy technologies such as wind and solar are readily available and in most cases cheaper than coal and other fossil fuels, the top UN official proposes critical actions to jump-start the energy transition, which he calls the "peace project of the 21st century"

1.1 degrees Celsius above pre-industrial levels. Noting the report is a "dismal litany of humanity's failure to tackle climate disruption," the UN chief said that while time is running out to prevent the worst impacts of the climate crisis, there is a "lifeline" right in front. "We must end fossil fuel pollution and accelerate the renewable energy transition before we incinerate our only home. Transforming energy systems is a low-hanging fruit," he emphasised in a video message. Highlighting that renewable energy technologies such as wind and solar are readily available and in most cases cheaper than coal and other fossil fuels, the top UN official proposed critical actions to jump-start the energy transition, which he called the "peace project of the 21st century." Guterres called for treating renewable energy technologies as essential global public goods, securing, scaling up and diversifying the supply components and raw materials for renewable energy technologies. He also urged efforts to build frameworks and reform fossil fuel bureaucracies.

The UN Chief called on governments to fast-track and streamline approvals of solar and wind projects, modernise grids and set ambitious renewable energy targets that provide certainty to investors, developers, consumers and producers. The secretary-general called for shifting subsidies away from fossil fuels. "While people suffer from high prices at the pump, the oil and gas industry is raking in billions from a distorted market. This scandal must stop," Guterres pointed out. "It's time to jump-start the renewable energy transition before it's too late," the secretary-general said.

UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres has called for efforts to accelerate the transition to renewable energy, saying the renewable energy is the "lifeline" to ending climate change. Greenhouse gas concentrations, sea level rises, ocean heat levels and acidification, all set new records during 2021, while some glaciers reached the point of no return, according to the latest flagship report from the World Meteorological Organization, published on Wednesday.

The State of the Climate 2021 indicates that extreme weather - the day-to-day face of climate change - wreaked a heavy toll of human lives, triggered shocks for food and water security, and led to hundreds of billions of dollars in economic losses last year, Xinhua news agency reported. The report, which describes yet more clear signs that human activity is causing harm on a planetary scale, also confirms that the past seven years have been the warmest on record, with global temperature in 2021 reaching about

Old Workhorse

When unsure, fall back on the old and reliable. The Centre has apparently decided not to appoint officers from the Indian Legal Service (ILS) or law specialists as the Union Secretary of the Law Ministry. It has chosen to rely on the old workhorse, the ubiquitous IAS, by naming 1990-batch IAS officer Nitin Chandra as the new law secretary. Though this all-India service has existed since 1956, few in the public are aware of its existence. ILS officers are generally appointed at various levels, beginning with undersecretary in various departments including the Legal Affairs Department, Legislative Department and the Justice Department of the ministry. Though ILS officers are largely appointed by the UPSC, officers are often taken on deputation from other departments as well. Chandra replaced AK Mendiratta, a judicial service officer, who was appointed as a Judge of the Delhi High Court earlier in February. Interestingly, it's Mendiratta who reportedly drafted the ill-fated farm laws that created such a stir, leading to a year-long agitation by protesting farmers. Recall that even the Chief Justice had lamented the fall in quality and precision of drafting legislation in the country. This could perhaps hold a clue to Chandra's appointment. Perhaps the Centre felt that an IAS officer would be a better fit for the post. Sources have informed DKB that the stellar track record of previous Law Secretary Alok Srivastava might have persuaded the government to return the post to the IAS cadre.

Babus' cooling-off period
The Centre's lateral entry policy in which it is hiring domain specialists from the public and private sectors is being offset by a trickle of high-profile exits of senior babus to the corporate world. In many instances, these babus have taken up lucrative assignments shortly after leaving the civil service or retirement, even though rules stipulate that officials have to undergo a year-long "cooling off" period. The recent appointment of Archana Goyal Gulati, former Member of NTI Aayog and Competition Commission of India (CCI) as head of public policy at Google, has revived the old debate. Sources say that Gulati was posted at CCI when it ordered a probe into Alphabet Inc, Google's parent company, Gulati, however, has pointed out that she joined well after the end of the mandatory "cooling off" period. But murmurs are unlikely to die down. Gulati is following in the footsteps of several other babus who decided to explore the challenges and opportunities offered up by the brave new corporate world. In 2019, Anandvijay Jha left babudom after two decades for the greener pastures of a multinational, and further an international investment powerhouse. Last year, Rajiv Aggarwal, a UP cadre IAS officer, joined a global social media platform as head of policy. It isn't hard to see why senior babus are showing keen interest in leaving the confines of babudom, with its rules and restrictions, to join global companies. But the issue of having a mandatory cooling-off period for retired babus with corporate or even political ambitions needs greater debate. Does it lead to a better rapport between the government and private companies, as its votaries claim, or does it raise the inevitable questions about propriety, transparency, impartiality etc. of such babus who may have dealings with a corporate entity in their official capacity and then join the same company later?

Centre raps Khattar govt
The tussle between IAS and IPS officers of Haryana over postings has escalated after the Centre's intervention. Of late, the Manohar Lal Khattar government has been appointing non-cadre officers from IPS, IFS and IRS to cadre posts. Further, the state government had sought the Centre's approval of 11 non-cadre officers for cadre posts. Now the Centre has responded stating that the state government cannot post non-cadre officers to cadre posts beyond three months without the Centre's prior approval. It has also sought from the state government details of all cadre officers against cadre posts. Sources say that the state government is yet to take a call to this directive from Delhi. But the IPS Officers Association has written to state Chief Secretary Sanjeev Kaushal that there has been no violation of cadre rules. The IPS officers argue that the three posts of Principal Secretaries held by non-IAS officers are not cadre posts. But that may not cut ice with the babus in Delhi. The IAS officers have clearly struck back at the Khattar sarkar, but whose will prevail? How Kaushal responds to the Centre's directive will give an indication.

WORDSWORTH

Aerobot

Agencies working for NASA have used this term for craft designed to explore solar-system bodies such as Venus, Mars and Titan. Three sorts of aerobots are proposed or are under development. One type is an unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV), which is launched from an orbiting spacecraft and deploys wings before it lands. The second is a lighter-than-air craft, a helium-filled balloon fitted with heaters powered by solar cells. A third is a hybrid balloon-kite system sometimes called a helikite. An advantage of the second and third kinds is that they don't need fuel, which is expensive to transport and which runs out all too soon. Unlike satellites or the winged aerobot, the lighter-than-air versions can fly for extended periods, allowing long-term monitoring of the properties of the atmosphere. They can also view and record the ground from much lower altitudes than is possible with satellites. In the NASA sense, the word combines the prefix aero-, as in aeronautics, with bot, a common abbreviated form of robot. However, aerobot is also a trademarked term of Moller International for its small ducted fan aerial vehicle, in which the first part of the word would seem to be from aerial rather than aeronautics.

Help the lonely kid

Sandy began a job as an elementary school counselor and she was eager to help. One day during recess she noticed a girl standing by herself on one side of a playing field while the rest of the kids enjoyed a game of soccer at the other. Sandy approached and asked if she was all right. The girl said she was. A little while later, however, Sandy noticed the girl was in the same spot, still by herself. Approaching again, Sandy offered, "Would you like me to be your friend?" The girl hesitated, then said, "Okay," looking at the woman suspiciously. Feeling she was making progress, Sandy then asked, "Why are you standing here all alone?" "Because," the little girl said with great exasperation, "I'm the goalie!"

FOCUS RUSSIA-UKRAINE CRISIS

RESTORING DETERRENCE

As NATO military chiefs meet in Brussels to discuss the war in Ukraine, the other issue on their minds is the alliance's forthcoming Strategic Concept, which will shape its priorities for years to come. And here, Russia's behavior has demonstrated that re-establishing deterrence must play a central role.

When Russia began amassing troops on Ukraine's border late last year, it embarked on a path of aggression against not just Ukraine but also what it calls the "collective West," particularly the European Union and NATO. Russia was seeking to deter Ukraine and the West from increased collaboration, while the West was seeking to deter Russia from aggression. The subsequent invasion stems from a massive failure of deterrence.

The Ukrainians have marshalled an impressive defence, and the EU, NATO, and other Western partners and allies have continued to tighten economic and financial sanctions and provide aid. But we are in a dangerous cycle of escalation. The situation demands credible deterrence that goes far beyond the traditional "nuclear umbrella."

After all, deterrence is not only about nuclear warfare. It is relevant to all forms of confrontation - whether in business or on the battlefield. Many of these dynamics are present in the current conflict. Russia and Europe's codependent energy relationship had been deemed a strong deterrent on both sides; but it patently failed.

Deterrence is about convincing an opponent that not doing something is in its best interests. Russia first attempted to deter Ukraine and the West by deploying its troops along Ukraine's borders. But as it did, the United States and its NATO allies released daily intelligence and data revealing Russian troop movements, demonstrating clearly to the Kremlin that they knew what it was doing. Such signaling is the first element of deterrence.

Deterrence must be a popular aim that commands widespread public support. It also must be backed by other countries, because international cooperation is crucial for ensuring the security of smaller, vulnerable states. Achieving such broad-based support requires effective, inspirational leadership of the kind that Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky has demonstrated

Another core element of deterrence is the belief that an adversary has both the will and the capability to escalate measures if the other side does not change course. When Russia issued a litany of demands designed to highlight Ukraine and NATO's vulnerabilities - from Ukraine's status as a state to the overall European security architecture - its audience didn't find its threats to be credible.

With the exception of the US, few believed that Russia would launch a full-scale invasion or persist with its threats against NATO and neutral states. Yet Russia did invade and has since issued veiled nuclear threats and even tested a new supersonic missile.

Similarly, Russian President Vladimir Putin did not take seriously French President Emmanuel Macron, German Chancellor Olaf Scholz, and other Western leaders when they expressed their intentions to support Ukraine. The Kremlin heard these statements, but it also heard several other leaders, including US President Joe Biden, say that they would not send troops to defend a non-NATO country. Russia thus decided to invade, only to be surprised by the scope and intensity of the West's response.

For its part, Ukraine's deterrence strategy was essentially to project an image of itself as a country that already belonged to the West. And though the Kremlin was unpersuaded, Russia clearly underestimated Ukrainian unity and the capability and competence of its army, even though it had been fighting Ukrainian forces since its incursions into the country in 2014.

Ukraine's heroic self-defence reminds us that beyond the battlefield and business, beyond sanctions and institutions, there are ordinary people: the war is taking place among them, and they will decide its ultimate outcome.

Though Ukrainians' will to defend their lives, homes, and ideals has not yet deterred Russia's leadership, there is strong evidence that it has deterred many Russian soldiers from fighting.

Looking ahead, Western deterrence must become a primary strategic objective and thus more comprehensive, including all the elements that matter US Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin took a step in this direction by announcing that one of America's goals now is to "see Russia weakened to the degree that it can't do the kinds of things that it has done in invading Ukraine." And the $33 billion lend-lease bill that Biden signed on May 9 will further advance this goal.

But it's not enough. Deterrence must be a popular aim that commands widespread public support. It also must be backed by other countries, because international cooperation is crucial for ensuring the security of smaller, vulnerable states. Achieving such broad-based support requires effective, inspirational leadership of the kind that Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky has demonstrated. He has rallied not only the Ukrainian people but the entire Western world. Other leaders would do well to follow his example.

Finally, it is important to remember where deterrence fits in the broader context of globalization. Russia was emboldened by the economic interdependencies that it has cultivated, and it was empowered by its status as a permanent, veto-wielding member of the United Nations Security Council. Deterrence must include measures either to neutralize or contain both factors.

The war in Ukraine is the result of insufficient deterrence. Ultimately, there will be no peace without it.

SPECTRUM NATIONAL POLITICS

Cong's alternative governance plan

The recently concluded Chintan Shivir of the Congress at its Udaipur Declaration has given a call for 'Bharat Jodo' (United India) against divisive politics that has left social harmony in tatters. It is significant that this comes 80 years after Gandhiji's call of 'Bharat Chhodo' (Quit India). The declaration rightly pointed out: "There is a perverse conspiracy to divide people on the basis of religion, caste, food habits, clothes, language, region and colour: The bigotry of the current rulers has pushed even the economy into peril. This rings alarm, for a grave danger to India's present and future".

Congress interim President Sonia Gandhi announced that the Bharat Jodo yatra, to commence October 2, is meant to strengthen the bonds of social harmony that are under stress, to preserve the foundational values of the Constitution that are under assault and to highlight the daily concerns of the people, including price rise and unemployment. Obviously, reaching out to people at the grass-root level is the Congress message from the Shivir and to put spotlight on the skewed policies being pursued by the present Modi government.

The conclave considered significant organisational changes, including the establishment of a public insight department to ensure continuous feedback from the ground level and 50 percent reservation for those below 50 years of age from the highest forum to the booth levels. Though there was some resistance to the latter proposal, political analysts believe that this is a prudent step to revitalise the party at this point of time. The need to bring in new and young faces into leadership roles is critical.

The party also decided to establish greater interaction with religious and social groups to deepen its contact with institutions that command loyalty of key population blocs. This again is the party's strategy to connect with the grassroots more effectively. Another way of the Congress reaching to the lowest levels is to set up a mandal committee for 15-20 booth committees. Other decisions include having an assessment wing to monitor the performance of its departments and its office-bearers. A better discipline enforcement system may be evolved under this department. All these suggest that the Congress has finally woken up to the fact that it needs to restructure its organisational capacity, which fades in comparison to the BJP's.

Besides, the regressive conditions prevailing in the country need to be highlighted. Not just inflation and sufferings of the poor but also violence perpetrated by majoritarianism, communal hatred, bitter bickering amongst political parties, criminalisation of politics, autocratic tendencies of ruling dispensations have unfortunately become the order of the day. A look at Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, West Bengal or other parts of the country, adds to the confirmation.

Former President Rahul Gandhi also attacked the Modi government at the Centre, accusing it of spreading hatred, pressuring the judiciary, arm-twisting the Election Commission, destroying institutions, and muzzling the media. He said his fight was against the ideology of the RSS-BJP and the "hatred and violence that they spread". This apart, he observed that the Prime Minister always harped on cooperative federalism but actually practised 'coercive federalism'.

But the question is whether the proposals at the Shivir will help the leadership dismantle this self-contained bureaucracy and develop organisational roots? The focus cannot remain on just the Gandhis, whose popularity is on the downhill as stated by recent Assembly elections. The high command concept may remain, as most parties in the country follow this political principle, but the middle level leadership must be strengthened.

Will the Congress transform to become an effective force towards attainment of cooperative federalism? No doubt, the party follows secular and pro-poor policies. However, it appears to have finally drawn a strategy towards attainment of a strong dose of economic decentralization and involvement of the lower tiers of the political machinery in the decision-making process. Will decentralisation, including at the top yield results?

Moreover, it must also ensure leaders with a clean image, well-educated with motivation to work with dedication and sincerity are asked to lead. There is a need for young leaders in the country who do not indulge in sectarian politics and are willing to understand and ameliorate the problems of the suffering masses. It remains to be seen whether the Congress realises this and takes effective action in this regard.

A fair judgement

Sir, Perhaps, cricketer-turned-politician Navjot Singh Sidhu would have least realised that his involvement in the 1988 road rage case that resulted in the death of a 65-year-old Patiala resident, would come back to torment him after 34 years with a judgment of one-year rigorous imprisonment. In fact, it was surprising that the apex court, in its May 2018 judgment, had let off Sidhu with a small punishment of imposing a fine of Rs. 1,000, citing that road skirmishes were a "very common sight in this country." Though very late, the SC has made the right verdict in this case now, and its pronouncement stresses the fact that nobody, irrespective of his/her status in the society, is above the law. To put it in Sidhu's own style, "a punch of a ball with a bat may look charming on a cricket field. But on the roadside, a punch on the face of a person could certainly be harmful."

Imminent threat

Sir, In proper management of the ecosystem, species play a significant role. However, the environmental crisis is leading several species towards extinction. According to the Wildlife Survey Organization, four species of fauna and 18 flora varieties have gone extinct. This apart, a large number of species are on the verge of disappearance. Saving them is a collective responsibility as their extinction will certainly create imbalance in the ecosystem. For living in harmony with nature, there is a need to enhance the number of biosphere reserves and launch sensitization drives to educate more people about the upcoming threat.

Prepare beforehand

Sir, A number of Monkeypox cases have been found in Europe in recent days. Mostly this has been found among the young men of Europe. The disease which once used to be restricted to the African continent has now slowly spread out of Africa. According to the Doctors, this disease is similar to smallpox and has similar symptoms. This virus can transmit to close contact with bodily fluids. The experts have suggested that there is a meager chance of this disease turning out to be a global pandemic yet we need a shield against this disease before it spreads to other parts of the world. Indian government along with Indian doctors should start research on the disease and disseminate safeguard guidelines and other necessary information regarding the disease to the public. Our healthcare system and our citizens should be made well informed and prepared before it becomes too late.

The defence sources said, "An unidentified terrorist was killed by the Army's 3/9 GR during an infiltration bid in Tangdhar sector of the LoC in Kupwara district today."

Five arrested

Former police head constable Gagandeep Singh was killed while planting the bomb in the washroom of the district court while six others were injured in the blast that took place on December 23, 2021. Kishor predicts poll loss for Congress

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Patna, May 20: Political strategist Prashant Kishor Friday asserted that the Congress was facing an "impending electoral rout" in Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh, states ruled by the BJP where assembly polls are due later this year.

The I-PAC founder, whose proposed induction into the Congress for reviving the grand old party proved to be a non-starter, also expressed the view that the recent 'chintan shivir' could not achieve "anything meaningful".

"I have been repeatedly asked to comment on the outcome of #UdaipurChintanShivir...In my view, it failed to achieve anything meaningful other than prolonging the status quo and giving some time to the Congress leadership, at least till the impending electoral rout in Gujarat and HP!" Kishor tweeted.

Kishor, whose much-publicised blueprint for reviving the Congress turned out to be a non-starter, has since launched a political movement 'Jan Suraj', aimed at transforming the politics in his home state of Bihar.

The I-PAC founder, who shot to fame after handling the tremendously successful election campaign of Narendra Modi in 2014, had previously worked with the Congress in 2017 in Uttar Pradesh and Punjab.

Better if 'senior' judge hears Gyanvapi case: SC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 20: The Supreme Court Friday transferred the civil suit filed by Hindu devotees on Gyanvapi mosque from civil judge (senior division) to district judge, Varanasi saying looking at the "complexities" and "sensitivity" of the issue, it is better if a senior judicial officer having an experience of over 25-30 years handles this case.

In an important observation, the top court also said that the process to ascertain the religious character of a place of worship is not barred under the Places of Worship Act of 1991.

A bench of Justices DY Chandrachud, Surya Kant, and PS Narasimha said that the matter involves complexity and sensitivity and it would be better if a district judge handles the case and made it clear that it is not casting any aspersion on the civil judge (senior division) who was earlier dealing with the suit.

"Having regard to the complexities of the issue involved in the case, in the civil suit and their sensitivity, we are of the considered view that the suit before the civil judge (senior division) Varanasi should be tried before a senior and experienced judicial officer of the Uttar Pradesh Higher Judicial

"We accordingly order and direct that the suit stand transferred from the file of civil judge (senior division) Varanasi to the court of the district judge, Varanasi for trial, and all the interlocutory and ancillary proceedings in the suit shall be addressed to and decided by the court of the district judge," the bench said.

The top court directed the district judge to decide on the priority of the application under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC (on maintainability)

"The interim order of this court dated May 17, 2022, shall continue to remain in operation pending the disposal of the application under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC and thereafter for a period of eight weeks to enable the parties which is aggrieved by the order of the district judge to pursue rights and remedies in accordance with law", the bench said.

Nine workers continue to be trapped in the debris as rescue operations continue. However, their chances of survival are slim, the officials said. "Around 10.15 pm on Thursday, the audit tunnel of T3 on the highway near Khooni Nallah in Ramban collapsed, trapping 11-12 labourers of Sarla Company working there," a senior official said. The rescue operation on the national highway stretch between Ramban and Ramsu started at midnight and was going on in full swing with rock-breakers being used to reach out to those trapped, he said. Divisional Commissioner of Jammu Ramesh Kumar and Additional Director General of Police (ADGP), Jammu Zone, Mukesh Singh visited the incident site where a massive rescue operation is underway. Union minister Jitendra Singh termed the collapse of a part of the tunnel "unfortunate".

SIDHU SENT TO JAIL

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Patiala, May 20: Congress leader Navtej Singh Sidhu surrendered before a court here on Friday, a day after being sentenced to one-year rigorous imprisonment by the Supreme Court in a 1988 road rage death case.

"He surrendered before the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate Amit Malhan," said senior advocate HPS Verma, who accompanied Sidhu to the court. The former Punjab Congress president surrendered shortly after 4 pm, and was taken for the mandatory medical examination, conducted at the Mata Kaushalya Hospital.

After the medical check-up, he was lodged in the Patiala Central Jail.

Some party leaders including Navtej Singh Cheema, Ashwani Sekhri and Sidhu's supporters accompanied him from his home to the court, which is close to his residence. Cheema drove Sidhu, who was dressed in a blue-coloured 'pathani suit', to the court in an SUV.

This came just hours after the former Punjab Congress president approached the Supreme Court seeking a few weeks to surrender to serve the imprisonment.

The top court bench of justices A M Khanwilkar and J B Pardiwala told senior advocate A M Singhvi, appearing for Sidhu, that the judgment on one-year rigorous imprisonment was passed by a special bench, and that he can file the application and mention it before the Chief Justice.

Singhvi said he will try and mention the matter before the Chief Justice. Back in Patiala, some former MLAs and supporters turned up at Sidhu's residence in the morning to show their support.

POLITICAL SETBACK FOR MNS

Raj Thackeray puts off Ayodhya trip

PRES TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, May 20: In a self-inflicted political blow, Maharashtra Navnirman Sena President Raj Thackeray Friday morning tersely announced that he has temporarily “postponed” his proposed visit to Ayodhya June 5.

He himself made the announcement via social media but didn’t spell out any reasons for the move, leading to wild speculations in political circles.

MNS spokesperson Sandip Deshpande and party leader Bala Nandgaonkar were at a loss to explain what actually prompted the unexpected decision, but assured that Raj Thackeray will enlighten the people about it at his planned public rally in Pune Sunday.

Adding to the MNS’ awkwardness, ruling Maha Vikas allies’ leaders like Shiv Sena’s Tourism Minister Aditya Thackeray and state Congress President Nana Patole announced that their upcoming tours for ‘darshan’ of Ram Lalla would proceed as per schedule and their trips would be “non-political”.

Taking a swipe at the MNS chief, Shiv Sena chief spokesperson Sanjay Raut said that he heard about it from the media, “but we would have supported him”.

“There’s a large number of Shiv Sainiks and Sena supporters in Ayodhya, and we would have supported him. He is being used by

Raj Thackeray’s abrupt decision came amid massive protests by certain BJP leaders and activists in Uttar Pradesh and other northern states opposing his Ayodhya trip

They have been vociferously demanding his unconditional apology for the treatment meted out to North Indians in the MNS agitation in 2008

Taking to Twitter, the MNS president said, “Ayodhya visit on hold for the time being. Details about it will be given at the rally in Pune May 22” the Bharatiya Janata Party, but some people get delayed wisdom,” he said.

Nationalist Congress Party spokesperson Clyde Crasto expressed hope that Raj Thackeray would now realise how he was being exploited by the BJP politically.

“They propped him to propagate their agenda and when their message was delivered, they have cut him down to size. He was used as a pawn and he allowed himself to be used to revive his failed political career,” he claimed.

Congress General Secretary Sachin Sawant squarely blamed the BJP for Raj Thackeray’s current predicament.

“First, the BJP pumped up air into him, but when it feared that the Hindutva vote-bank would be divided, they snipped him off,” he said.

Sena MoS and spokesperson Kishore Tiwari alleged that the BJP-MNS and Rana couple were competing to prove whose Hindutva brand is the worst and Raj Thackeray got trapped in their machinations.

Leader of Opposition Devendra Fadnavis merely said: “Raj has postponed his visit now, but whenever he plans to go there, he will be given full support and nobody will touch him.”

The anti-Raj Thackeray protests were spearheaded by Uttar Pradesh BJP MP Brijbhushan Sharan Singh who warned that unless he apologises, lakhs of his supporters would block his entry to Ayodhya.

Though Raj Thackeray has not revealed anything, there’s speculation that the postponement may have been due to health reasons, but MNS leaders declined comments.

Back in Uttar Pradesh, Brijbhushan Sharan Singh dismissed the MNS claims of “postponement due to illness” and asserted that Raj Thackeray has “cancelled” his trip, and vowed to continue his agitation till the MNS chief tenders an apology.

Earlier, apprehending threats, MNS’ Nandgaonkar had called on Maharashtra Home Minister Dilip Walse-Patil and demanded security for Raj Thackeray either from the state government or the Centre.

Simultaneously, he warned that “even if a hair of Raj was harmed, Maharashtra would burn”, though preparations for the Ayodhya trip continued.

Since a month, Raj Thackeray has been in the limelight after he launched an agitation demanding removal of loudspeakers from all mosques in the state failing which his activists would blare Hanuman Chalisa at double-decibel levels.

Lucknow to get its 1st dog park soon

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Lucknow, May 20: The park, a first of its kind in Uttar Pradesh, will have track for walking dogs, allowing them to run and play.

Arrangements are also being made to deploy dog trainers whose services can be availed by dog owners at the park. According to officials of the Lucknow Development Authority (LDA), a proposal for the park has been sent to the state government and is awaiting a nod.

The park will be developed at a cost between Rs 15-25 crore. Officials are identifying land around 10 acres for the project in Gomti Nagar extension area.

The maintenance of the park will be ensured through a nominal fee. “We plan to make it mandatory for dogs to have a licence before they enter the park. This will help in making people aware of the fact that they need to get a licence for their pet,” said an official.

Lucknow, at present, has over 4,000 parks and dispute over entry of pet dogs in the parks leads to arguments with an alarming regularity.

Call to treat widows with dignity grows

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, May 20: Days after Herwad village in Maharashtra’s Kolhapur district passed a resolution to ban the customs associated with widowhood to maintain women’s “right to live with dignity”, those spearheading this campaign are now following up with the state government, demanding that a law be framed to end the “regressive” traditions.

The village passed the resolution May 4, after which the Maharashtra government issued a circular asking all gram panchayats in the state to adopt the “Herwad model”.

The Herwad gram panchayat in Shirol taluka passed the resolution to ban customs like removing a widow’s mangalsutra, toe ring, wiping her sindoor (vermillion) and breaking her bangles as part of rituals handed down over time.

As per the customs, widows were barred from attending social and religious gatherings.

The pioneering move by this village is being seen as the beginning of the enactment of a law to safeguard the dignity of widows. Pramod Zinjade, who heads a social welfare organisation named after reformer Mahatma Phule in Solapur district, is an inspiration behind the Herwad model.

Talking to PTI, he said Herwad is the first village in the country to pass such a resolution and seven more villages have followed suit. “Mere resolutions will not be enough and a legal sanction to end the regressive practices is the need of the hour,” he said.

The other widows who disfigure the deceased man’s grieving wife, the relatives who silently watch it happen, the villagers who participate in the funeral should be held guilty for humiliating the widow. The women who perform the regressive actions should be punished with three months to one year in jail and Rs 5,000 to Rs one lakh penalty be imposed on them, he said.

The relatives should be punished for 15 days to one month in jail and Rs 5,000 to Rs 50,000 penalty. While the participants in the funeral should be punished by way of making them sit together for a day in the village itself, he said. A monitoring committee should be set up to check if the law is being violated at the local level. The committee should have 50 per cent women as members and half of them should be widows, Zinjade said.

UP Assembly ready with ‘new look’

THE STATE ASSEMBLY IS NOW THE FIRST E-VIDHAN SABHA IN THE COUNTRY AND HAS GONE COMPLETELY PAPERLESS

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Lucknow, May 20: The Budget Session of the Uttar Pradesh Assembly that is scheduled to begin May 23, will have a completely new look.

This will be more than a year after the Yogi Adityanath government, during its first tenure, turned day orientation and training for all the members and officers of the legislative Assembly and secretariat began Friday to equip them with the e-Vidhan Sabha.

The state Assembly this time, will also have a new complexion since major players like Congress and Bahujan Samaj Party have been reduced to being non-players.

The Congress has just two members and the BSP has one – both parties have not been allotted rooms for their party members in the assembly complex. This is, perhaps, the first time in history that the Congress presence in the Assembly is negligible. Smaller parties like Apna Dal have 12 members, RLD has eight, Suheldev Bhartiya Samaj Party (SBSP), has since and Jansatta Dal has two.

Over 17L tonne of sugarcane still lying in farms across Maha

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Aurangabad, May 20: Around 17.5 lakh tonne of sugarcane is still lying uncut in farms across Maharashtra although the crushing season has ended, but majority of this stock shall be crushed by the end of this month and over 30 sugar mills will remain functional till it is over, a top official said.

The sugarcane crushing season in Maharashtra generally starts in October-November and continues till mid-April.

Out of the 10 districts in Maharashtra that have topped the list of excess sugarcane stock this year, seven are from the Marathwada region, the official said.

“After good rains last year, the area under sugarcane cultivation in the state increased significantly. Even after the sugarcane crushing season has got over, the state still has around 17.5 lakh tonnes of sugarcane standing in farms, waiting to be crushed. Hence, crushing in some parts of the state may continue till the first week of June,” he said. Talking to PTI, Maharashtra sugar commissioner Shekhar Gaikwad said, “The quantum of sugarcane currently standing in the farms across the state is around 17.5 lakh tonnes. Most of this crop will be crushed by May 31. In some parts of Ahmednagar and Jalna districts, the crushing activity may continue till the first week of June.”

“So far, we have succeeded in bringing 129 harvesters from other states and all are working in Marathwada. In Jalna alone, 29 harvesters are working at present,” he said.

The state had recorded sugarcane plantation on 11.42 lakh hectares in 2020-21, but this year (2021-22), the figure went up by 2.25 lakh hectares to 13.67 lakh hectares. The quantity of sugarcane crushed last year was 1,013.31 lakh tonnes, while this year (till May 16) 1,300.62 lakh tonnes of sugarcane was crushed - an increase of 287.31 lakh tonnes, another official said. Over 30 sugar mills in the state may continue their operations till May end, he said.

“During June and July, the sea tends to be rough and is the breeding period for a lot of fish. Fishing during this period may affect the food chain adversely. Moreover, fishing in the seas at this time is also dangerous,” he said.

Modular kitchen in UP jail

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Kaushambhi (Uttar Pradesh), May 20: The Kaushambhi district jail Wednesday has become the first prison in Uttar Pradesh to start the process of making food with the help of machines.

“Apart from hi-tech electric roti maker machines for preparing fresh chapatis, electric cookers for dal (pulse) and chawal (rice) preparations are also been utilised for meal preparations,” said Kaushambhi district jail Superintendent, Rakesh Singh.

The prison now has an electric roti maker and the machines used for peeling and cutting vegetables and potatoes

He added that the installation of the machines save labour and help in preparing food faster and a more hygienic manner.

“The inmates can now enjoy fresh and warm food. The electric roti maker machine will help to shape and serve around 3,000 chapatis in an hour,” said the jail official.

This has also reduced the number of inmates engaged in making rotis from 25 to 10. Nearly 3,000 rotis are being prepared two times a day. The Kaushambhi district jail has more than 1,000 inmates and nearly 50-60 inmates were earlier deputed to prepare the food every day. The jail authorities have also brought insulated utensils to keep the food warm and fresh.

“Initially, jail authorities faced some problems as inmates did not have much knowledge about these machines and did not know how to use them but we have got experts to train them,” the Jail Superintendent said.

Recently, celebrity chef Ranveer Brar had been invited to teach jail inmates how to improve their culinary skills and prepare tastier food.

Maharashtra: Over 200 wild animals spotted Nagpur: More than 200 wild animals, including tigers, leopards and deer, were spotted during a waterhole survey conducted at Pench Tiger Reserve in Maharashtra, an official said. The waterhole survey was held May 16 as part of Nisarganubhav-2022 organised by the forest department at the reserve, the official said. At least 222 wild animals were spotted during the survey, which was conducted in five ranges of the reserve and 71 machans were made available for the exercise conducted by the field staff, said Pradhu Nath Shukla, the deputy director of Pench Tiger Reserve in Nagpur.

elephants from crossing over to villages on this side of the border; but the pachyderms have now devised a way to ‘dismantle’ the electric fences.” He said that the elephants first break branches of trees and throw them at the fence till the fence is broken. Then they cross over to the other side to enjoy sugarcane and other crops which brings them in direct conflict with humans.

Patel said that the villagers had informed them about how the elephants are destroying the fences with tree branches.

“Fencing, therefore, is no longer an option with these smart animals now. We will seek funds to erect a strong wall,” he said.

More than two decades ago, in 2000, when Uttarakhand was carved out of Uttar Pradesh, a 10 km-long, seven-foot high and two-foot-wide wall was constructed by the Uttarakhand government to separate farms from the Corbett forest area.

This wall covered a substantial patch of ground from Kalagarh in Corbett to Amargarh.

Then the Uttar Pradesh government constructed a wall that went on for another 2 km, but lack of maintenance over the years, resulted in the wall crumbling, leaving gaps that led to wild animals sneaking in and destroying crops.

Khan's son and MLA Abdullah Azam, Pragatisheel Samajwadi Party (Lohiya) leader Shivpal Singh Yadav and a large number of supporters welcomed the senior SP leader

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Sitapur (UP), May 20: Senior Samajwadi Party leader Azam Khan walked out of the Sitapur Jail in Uttar Pradesh on Friday morning, a day after the Supreme Court granted him interim bail in a cheating case.

Khan's son and MLA Abdullah

Azam, Pragatisheel Samajwadi Party (Lohiya) leader Shivpal Singh Yadav and a large number of supporters welcomed the senior SP leader upon his release after 27 months.

Azam Khan had 88 cases, including that of land grabbing, registered against him. With the Supreme Court granting him interim bail in a cheating case, Khan is now on bail in all the cases he faces. Samajwadi Party president Akhilesh Yadav welcomed Khan's release.

"Hearty welcome to senior SP leader and MLA Azam Khan on his release on bail. With this bail decision, the Supreme Court has set new standards of justice. He will certainly be acquitted in all other false cases. Lies have moments, not centuries," Yadav said in a tweet.

Shivpal Singh Yadav posted on Twitter pictures with Khan outside the jail. The jailor of Sitapur prison, R S Yadav, said the release order was received around 11 pm on Thursday and after following all procedures, Khan was released around 8 am on Friday.

A Supreme Court bench, headed by Justice L Nageswara Rao, directed Khan to file for regular bail within two weeks and asked the trial court to decide it on merits without being influenced by any of the observations of the top court.

The Uttar Pradesh government had earlier opposed Khan's bail plea and termed him a "land grabber" and a "habitual offender".

Lack of strategy, skills biggest barriers for AI adoption: Report
More than 3 in 4 IT professionals in India (78 per cent) said that at least a quarter of the workforce at their company requires access to company data to make decisions

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

New Delhi, May 20: Seven out of 10 IT professionals in India think that the lack of a strategy is the largest barrier companies face in developing explainable and trustworthy artificial intelligence (AI), a new report has said.

Another greatest barrier to successful AI adoption is limited skills, expertise or knowledge (38 per cent) for organisations exploring or deploying AI in the country.

"As the adoption of AI grows steadily, organisations in India are using AI to augment their core business processes and services to better serve their clients, employees, and important stakeholders," said Siddhesh Naik, Data, AI & Automation Sales Leader, IBM Technology Sales, IBM India South Asia.

The report saw three trends clearly emerging in India. First, automation use cases are at the forefront of AI adoption as businesses are using AI to stay competitive and operate more efficiently "Second, effective data management and AI deployment go hand in hand because without the right tools, it is difficult to leverage data across their business. And third, it is critical to ensure trust in AI by explaining how the AI arrived at a decision," informed Naik. While 57 per cent of IT professionals in India said that their organisation has actively deployed AI in their business, over a quarter (27 per cent) indicate that their organisation is exploring the use of AI.

Over 50 per cent of IT professionals in India at companies exploring or deploying AI say their organisation plans to invest in research and development (56 per cent), building proprietary AI solutions (54 per cent), and reskilling and workforce development (52 per cent) in the next year.

The IT professionals in India are in near unanimous agreement that it is important to their company that they can build and run AI projects wherever their data resides. More than 3 in 4 IT professionals in India (78 per cent) said that at least a quarter of the workforce at their company requires access to company data to make decisions.

India's response came after Bilawal raked up the issue of J&K the abrogation of Article 370 and the recent order by the Delimitation Commission during his remarks at the Council debate

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

United Nations, May 20: India Friday slammed Pakistan for making "unwarranted remarks" on Jammu and Kashmir, saying comments made by its Foreign Minister Bilawal Bhutto Zardari in the UN Security Council are a "pavlovian response" aimed to misuse any forum and every topic to propagate false and malicious propaganda against New Delhi.

"Pakistan Representative made unwarranted remarks, which symbolises nothing but a pavlovian response aimed to misuse any forum, and every topic, to propagate false and malicious propaganda against my country," Counsellor in India's Permanent Mission to the UN Rajesh Parihar said.

India exercised the Right of Reply at the Security Council open debate on 'Maintenance of International Peace & Security - Conflict and Food Security' organised by the US, the Council President.

"The Union Territories of Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh were, are and will always remain an integral and inalienable part of India. This includes the areas that are under the illegal occupation of Pakistan. No amount of rhetoric and propaganda from any country can deny this fact," Parihar asserted. The Pakistan foreign minister, who is on a maiden visit to the US, also raked up the Kashmir issue while responding to questions during a press conference in New York Thursday.

G7 nations commit $19.8bln aid to Ukraine

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Koenigswinter, May 20: The Group of Seven leading economies agreed Friday to provide $19.8 billion in economic aid to Ukraine to ensure its finances do not hinder its ability to defend itself from Russia's invasion.

German Finance Minister Christian Lindner told reporters that $9.5 billion of the total amount was mobilised at meetings of the G-7 finance ministers in Koenigswinter, Germany, this week.

"We agreed that Ukraine's financial situation must have no influence on Ukraine's ability to defend itself successfully," he said. "We need to do our utmost to end this war."

Russia's invasion touched on almost every topic of the finance ministers' meetings this week, from the need to reduce reliance on Russian energy to reforming relationships between countries to maintain economic stability.

“Russia's war of aggression is causing global economic disruptions, impacting the security of global energy supply, food production and exports of food and agricultural commodities, as well as the functioning of global supply chains in general”

G-7 STATEMENT

US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen and other leaders spoke this week about the need for allies to put together enough additional aid to help Ukraine "get through" the Russian invasion.

"All of us pledged to do what's necessary to fill the gap," Yellen said Thursday as the ministers finished their first of two days of talks.

"We're going to put together the resources that they need." The

Musk denies he sexually harassed flight attendant

REUTERS

New York, May 20: Tesla Inc Chief Executive Elon Musk has denounced as "utterly untrue" claims in a news report that he sexually harassed a flight attendant on a private jet in 2016.

Shares of Tesla (TSLA.O) skidded more than 6% Friday.

Business Insider reported Thursday that Musk's private company SpaceX paid $250,000 in 2018 to settle a sexual harassment claim from an unnamed private jet flight attendant who accused Musk of exposing himself to her. The article quoted an anonymous person who said she was a friend of the flight attendant. The friend had provided a statement as part of the private settlement process, according to the article.

"I have a challenge to this liar who claims their friend saw me 'exposed' - describe just one thing, anything at all (scars, tattoos, ...) that isn't known by the public. She won't be able to do so, because it never happened," Musk tweeted late Thursday. Musk and SpaceX did not respond to Reuters requests for comment on the Business Insider story or on tweets by the billionaire. In a statement to Reuters Friday, Business Insider said: "We stand by our story which is based on documents and interviews and which speaks for itself."

Business Insider quoted the friend of the flight attendant as saying that in addition to allegedly exposing himself, Musk rubbed the flight attendant's thigh and offered to buy her a horse if she would "do more" during an in-flight massage.

As Joe Biden visits Asia, China launches SCS drills

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beijing, May 20: China is holding military exercises in the disputed South China Sea coinciding with US President Joe Biden's visits to South Korea and Japan that are largely focused on countering the perceived threat from Beijing.

China's Maritime Safety Administration office in the southern island province of Hainan said the drills began Thursday and will continue through Monday. It said other aircraft and vessels will be prohibited from entering the area but gave no further details. China claims the South China Sea virtually in its entirety and the crucial waterway has become a potential flashpoint for conflict in Asia. The US does not take a position on the sovereignty issue but insists on the right to operate freely in the sea and frequently sails warships close to militarised Chinese-held islands in the area in what are termed freedom of navigation operations.

Chicago shooting leaves two dead, eight wounded

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago, May 20: Two people are dead and another eight wounded following a shooting near a fast food restaurant just blocks from Chicago's famed Magnificent Mile shopping district that sent bystanders scattering, authorities said.

The shooting happened about 10:40 p.m. Thursday near a McDonald's on the city's Near North Side. One person was taken into custody and a weapon was recovered, police said in statement.

A subway train that travels through the area was stopped between stations as police searched for a weapon on the rails, Chief Juan Hernandez of the city's fire department said, according to the Chicago Tribune. Hernandez said the department evacuated passengers at about 11:30 p.m. Trains on the line were running as normal Friday, the Chicago Transit Authority said.

Police have not released details about what led to the shooting, but a witness, 18-year-old Deonna Jackson, said it appeared to stem from a fight outside the restaurant.

The shooting comes amid a surge in deadly violence in Chicago in recent years, and follows a fatal shooting last weekend in downtown Millennium Park that killed a teen and led the city to tighten a curfew for young people.

China becomes wild card in Lanka's raging debt crisis

AGENCIES

Beijing, May 20: China says its initiative to build ports and other infrastructure across Asia and Africa, paid for with Chinese loans, will boost trade. But in a cautionary tale for borrowers, Sri Lanka's multibillion-dollar debt to Beijing threatens to hinder efforts to resolve a financial crisis so severe that the Indian Ocean nation cannot import food or gasoline.

Sri Lanka's struggle is extreme, but it reflects conditions across dozens of countries from South Pacific islands through some of the poorest in Asia and Africa that have signed onto Chinese President Xi Jinping's Belt and Road Initiative. The total debt of poor countries is rising, raising risks others might run into trouble. Sri Lanka's 22 million people are in dire straits.

Foreign currency ran out in April, leading to food shortages, power cuts and protests that forced a prime minister to resign. Payment on $51 billion of debt to China, Japan and other foreign lenders was suspended.

Sri Lanka and other poor Asian countries welcome Chinese financing. The Asian Development Bank says the region needs to invest $1.7 trillion a year in infrastructure to keep economies growing. But some, including Sri Lankan critics of their government's spending, say Chinese-led projects cost too much or do too little for their economies.

China ranks third among Sri Lanka's creditors after Japan and the ADB and accounts for 10% of the debt, but Xi's government has an outside potential to disrupt a settlement.

SL CLOSES SCHOOLS

Colombo: Sri Lankan authorities Friday closed schools and asked public officials not to come to work in a desperate move to prepare for an acute fuel shortage that is expected to last days amid the nation's worst economic crisis in decades. The Public Administration Ministry asked the public officials -- except for those who maintain essential services -- not to come to work on Friday "in a view of current fuel shortage and issues in transport facilities" across the country.

FDI surges to highest ever $83.57bn in '21-22

The ministry said that the foreign inflows are increasing despite challenges like a military operation in Ukraine and Covid-19 pandemic

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 20: India has received the "highest ever" total foreign direct investments (FDI) of $83.57 billion in 2021-22 on account of various measures like policy reforms and ease of doing business taken by the government, the commerce and industry ministry said Friday.

Total FDI comprises equity inflows, reinvested earnings and other capital.

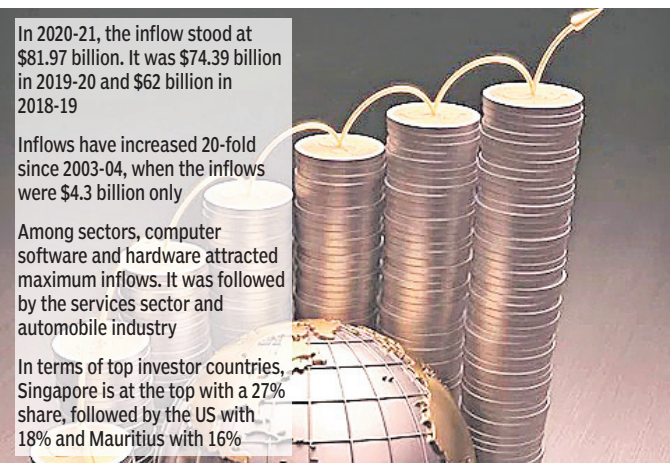

"India has recorded the highest ever annual FDI inflow of $83.57 billion in 2021-22," the ministry noted in a statement.

The ministry also informed that FDI equity inflow in manufacturing sectors has increased by 76 per cent in 2021-22 ($21.34 billion) compared to 2020-21 ($12.09 billion).

The ministry however, did not disclose FDI equity or fresh foreign inflows in the country during 2021-22.

These trends "are an endorsement of its status as a preferred investment destination amongst global investors," the ministry added.

Karnataka is the top recipient state with a 38 per cent share of the total FDI equity inflow reported during 2021-22 followed by Maharashtra (26 per cent) and Delhi (14 per cent), according to the statement.

"The steps taken by the government during the last eight years have borne fruit as is evident from the ever-increasing volumes of FDI inflow being received into the country, setting new records," it said.

The government has put in place a liberal and transparent policy for foreign investments, wherein most of the sectors are open to FDI under the automatic route.

"To further liberalise and simplify FDI policy for providing ease of doing business and attract investments, reforms have been undertaken recently across sectors, such as coal mining, contract manufacturing, digital media, single-brand retail trading, civil aviation, defence, insurance and telecom," it added.

20% FALL FROM RECORD CLOSE

S&P 500 on pace to confirm bear market

The S&P 500 and the Nasdaq are set for their seventh straight week of losses, their longest losing streak since the end of the dotcom bubble in 2001. The Dow is on track for its eighth consecutive weekly decline, its longest since 1932 during the Great Depression

REUTERS

Washington, May 20: The benchmark S&P 500 index is trading down 20% from its January 3 record close in volatile trading Friday, as investors fretted over the impact of rising inflation on earnings and the fallout of interest rate hikes on economic growth.

A close of 20% or more below that level will confirm the S&P 500 is in a bear market for the first time since the 2020 Wall Street plunge brought on by the coronavirus pandemic.

The tech-heavy Nasdaq is already in a bear market, down 30.7% from its record close in November 2021. Ten of the 11 major S&P sectors declined, with consumer discretionary and industrials down 3.5% and 2.2%, respectively.

Apple Inc, Google-owner Alphabet Inc, Nvidia Corp and Tesla slid between 2.5% and 9.9%, weighing the most on the S&P 500 and the Nasdaq. Both the indexes had climbed above 1% in morning trading.

Shares of Deere & Co tumbled 12.1% and were the biggest drag on the industrial sector after the heavy equipment maker posted downbeat quarterly revenue.

"In this process of a bear market, it is very common to have these intraday swings and counter cyclical rallies in it," said Will Nasgiovitz, chief executive officer at Heartland Advisors. "We are going to probably see a bear market (in S&P 500). The market is reflecting that the economy is not standing extremely tall, there are some cracks in the foundation."

Sensex, Nifty claw back lost ground

Mumbai: The Sensex surged over 1,500 points while the Nifty reclaimed the 16,000-mark Friday, reversing the previous session's sharp decline in tandem with a recovery across global markets as investors resorted to bargain-hunting. Snapping its two-day losing run, the BSE Sensex rallied 1,534.16 points or 2.91 per cent to close at 54,326.39. This was its biggest single-day jump in over three months. Similarly, the broader NSE Nifty soared 456.75 points or 2.89 per cent to 16,266.15. All the 30 Sensex firms ended in the green. The rupee slipped 7 paise to close at an all-time low of 77.63 against US dollar Friday, weighed down by unabated foreign fund outflows and elevated crude oil prices. On a weekly basis, the Sensex climbed 1,532.77 points or 2.90%, while the Nifty gained 484 points or 3.06%. Foreign institutional investors remained net sellers in the capital market Friday as they offloaded shares worth ₹1,265.41 crore, as per stock exchange data.

RBI approves dividend of ₹30,307cr to Centre

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, May 20: Reserve Bank of India (RBI) will pay the government ₹30,307 crore as dividend for the fiscal year ended March 31, down from the second highest payout ever of ₹99,122 crore paid in the previous year.

The board approved the transfer of ₹30,307 crore as surplus to the central government for the accounting year 2021-22 while deciding to maintain the Contingency Risk Buffer at 5.50 per cent, RBI said in a statement.

The decision on the dividend payment was taken in the 596th meeting of the Central Board of Directors of RBI, headed by Governor Shaktikanta Das, held Friday.

Earlier, RBI used to follow July-June period earlier as against government's April-March financial year.

For the current fiscal, the government had estimated a receipt of ₹73,948 crore as dividend revenue from the central bank and public sector financial institutions. This is 27 per cent lower than the ₹1.01 lakh crore received in FY22.

RBI's latest dividend is down compared to last year as it may have taken a hit on the income side, with the central bank likely receiving lower interest income from its liquidity management operations.

In 2018-19, RBI paid a total of

Last year in May, RBI declared a dividend of ₹99,122 crore for the nine-month period (July 2020 to March 2021)

Spore's Zilingo fires Indian-origin CEO

REUTERS

Singapore, May 20: Singapore-based Zilingo said Friday it had fired Chief Executive Ankita Bose after an independent investigation into complaints about what the fashion technology startup described as "serious financial irregularities".

Bose, 30, the face of Zilingo at industry forums and investor meetings, told Reuters she was wrongfully dismissed.

"The board has wrongfully terminated me today for 'insubordination' without giving me a chance to address fully the concerns that have been raised," she said.

Seven-year-old Zilingo was plunged into crisis after its board suspended Bose, the company's co-founder, in March with the backing of major investors, pending the probe.

The company said in an email statement it had decided to terminate Bose's "employment with cause, and reserves the right to pursue appropriate legal action."

Bose said in her statement to Reuters that she had informed the board this week in detail about "the amount of harassment and duress" she had undergone in the past few years.

"At the point of my purported termination, I have yet to be presented with the findings of both Kroll and Deloitte and my reports being incomplete," she wrote.

Sources familiar with the situation said Kroll conducted the probe into the claims of "financial irregularities" and Deloitte was tapped to probe Bose's "harassment" claims.

DC FACE MI IN VIRTUAL QUARTERS

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, May 20: Delhi Capitals will have their fortune in their own hands as they aim to pull all stops against season's favourite whipping boys Mumbai Indians in what will be a virtual IPL 'quarterfinal' clash for Rishabh Pant's men.

While DC have everything to play for, MI will like to cap off the season on a winning note although it would count for little for the five-time champions, who suffered due to poor auction strategy.

In case of Mumbai Indians, the only area of interest is whether legendary Sachin Tendulkar's son Arjun finally gets a game after having warmed the bench for 27 straight games across two seasons.

Skipper Rohit Sharma has indicated that they would blood some new faces in the final game. So far 22 players have played in 13 games.

The equation is as simple as it can get for the Capitals (+0.255) as they simply need to beat Mumbai Indians to pip Royal Challengers Bangalore (-0.253) on better net run-rate.

While MI have endured their worst season this time, Capitals have been guilty of inconsistency with seven wins and six defeats in their 13 games. In fact, it was their victory over RCB in the previous game that ensured back-to-back full points for them.

There have been days when Capitals have been extra-ordinary, with a David Warner (427 runs) or Mitchell Marsh (251 runs) or Rovman Powell (207 runs) upping the ante in batting. Spinners Kuldeep Yadav (20 wickets, 8.45), Axar Patel (6 wickets, 7.37) and Lalit Yadav (4 wickets, 8.33) have also done a decent job with the ball in a number of games.

However there are two areas where Capitals have flourished this season. One has been the pace department which has blown hot 'n' cold throughout, save Khaleel Ahmed (16 wickets at 8.08). Shardul Thakur despite his 13 wickets has conceded runs at more than nine runs per over.

And second and more importantly is skipper Pant's (301 runs) inability to convert some of his good starts into big scores. What has worked for DC towards the business end is Marsh's batting form and his two half-centuries which has gone a long way in keeping them alive.

Mustafizur Rahaman (8 wickets at 7.62) was fantastic in the games that he played but the combination requirement has prevented Ricky Ponting from playing him in more games.

However what will ease a bit of pressure off Ponting ahead of a high-stakes game is Sarfaraz Khan's form as an opener. After Prithvi Shaw was indisposed due to a bout of typhoid (he is still recuperating), Ponting used Kona Bharat and it didn't work out well for the team.

As far as MI is concerned, the less they said about this season, better it is for them. Save NT Tilak Varma's emergence as a stylish batter, who could be the next MI legend alongside Tim David, who has taken over the mantle from Kieron Pollard, there is not much to write home about.

Ashwin helps RR beat CSK

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Mumbai, May 20: Ravichandran Ashwin (40 n o, 23b, 2x4, 3x6), once again, proved his utility with the bat when his team needed it the most as Rajasthan Royals defeated Chennai Super Kings by five wickets to finish the IPL league phase in Top-2 here Friday.

Ashwin remained unbeaten as RR completed the chase of 151 with two balls to go, grabbing the second place to set up a blockbuster clash with Gujarat Titans in the first playoff next Tuesday.

Moeen Ali (93, 57b, 13x4, 3x6) was the top scorer for CSK before RR staged a remarkable comeback to restrict the yellow brigade to 150/6 in the allotted 20 overs.

Young Yashasvi Jaiswal (59, 44b, 8x4, 1x6) got RR off to a brisk start. In fact, by the time the first over of their innings came to an end, RR qualified for the playoffs on net run-rate, leaving RCB and Delhi Capitals to fight for the fourth spot.

Simarjeet Singh (1/18) struck early for CSK, sending back the dangerous Jos Buttler (2). The 20-year-old Jaiswal then added 51 runs for the second wicket with captain Sanju Samson (15).

However, Samson again failed to translate his start into a substantial contribution as left-arm spinner Mitchell Santner (1/15) had the batter caught and bowled. Devdutt Padikkal (3) did not last long and was bowled by Moeen (1/21) to leave RR at 76/3 in the 12th over; and with some work left to do.

The well-set Jaiswal got out to Prashant Solanki (2/20) while trying to clear the fence. Back from Guyana after celebrating the birth of his child, Shimron Hetmyer (6) arrived at the crease with high hopes of finishing it for RR, but could not do much as he fell to Solanki. However, Ravichandran Ashwin kept RR in the hunt with his sensible batting at one end.

Earlier, Moeen blazed away in the powerplay but slowed down considerably thereafter as CSK struggled for runs in the back 10.

Batting first after his skipper MS Dhoni won the toss, Moeen smashed his way to a 19-ball 50, and was 59 off 24 at the end of the first six powerplay overs, with CSK racing away to 75/1.

However, after being at the receiving end of Moeen's brutal onslaught during which the England all-rounder made a bowler of Trent Boult's calibre look like an uncapped player by bludgeoning him

I'll play IPL next year, says Dhoni

MUMBAI: MS Dhoni Friday said he will "definitely" play in the IPL next year as not doing so would be "unfair" to the city after which the Chennai Super Kings is named and which treats him like its own. With this, the 40-year-old Dhoni put to rest speculations around his participation in the lucrative league next season. "Definitely, I will play next year. It would be unfair not to say thank you to Chennai, to not play in Chennai. It won't be nice to the CSK fans," Dhoni said at the toss for CSK's final match of the ongoing season, against Rajasthan Royals. "Whether 2023 will be my last year or not, that is something we will have to see."

for 26 runs in an over; the RR bowling unit made a fine recovery.

There was a phase in the innings when CSK failed to find a boundary for 45 balls, before Dhoni (26) roared back to pull Yuzvendra Chahal (2/26) over deep square leg. Obed McCoy (2/20) then dashed Moeen's hopes for a century.

Lahiri placed 78th

TULSA (OKLAHOMA): A bogey-double midway through the second nine spoiling his card, Indian golfer Anirban Lahiri returned a three-over 73 that placed him Tied 78th after the first round of the PGA Championship at the Southern Hills, here. DHAWAN 'STILL HAVE LOT TO CONTRIBUTE' IN T20IS

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 20: India opener Shikhar Dhawan remains an integral part of the ODI set-up but feels he still has a lot to contribute in the T20 format as he looks to play at the highest level for at least another three years.

The 36-year-old from Delhi has had another consistent run in the IPL, scoring 421 runs for Punjab Kings with one game remaining. The last time the stylish opener scored less than 300 runs in the competition was back in 2015, highlighting his consistency.

However, despite being among the runs and leading India on tour of Sri Lanka last year, Dhawan did not find a place in the last T20 World Cup squad. However, he believes his experience can come in handy in the T20 set-up.

"Though I remain an integral part of the team, I still feel that I can contribute in the shortest format because of my experience. I have been quite doing well in the T20 format. Whatever role I have been given I have done well.

"I have managed to stay consistent in the formats that I am playing, whether it is the IPL or at the domestic level and I am enjoying it," Dhawan told this agency in an exclusive interview.

Dhawan wants to carry on for at least three years. "I don't put unnecessary pressure on myself. It's a race that never ends. If I get into that mindset, I will not be happy and it's not good energy. My ODI average is 45.53. I am always looking for growth, analysing if I can get better.

"We as cricketers have to remain on our toes and fit to be relevant in the race to represent India. I am playing for the next three years at least. I have been batting quite well for the past few years, I am hopeful and positive that the way I am performing, there are many milestones to achieve."

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bangkok, May 20: Two-time Olympic medallist PV Sindhu eked out a three-game win over World No.1 Akane Yamaguchi of Japan to make it to the semifinals of the Thailand Open Super 500 tournament here Friday.

The sixth seeded Indian prevailed 21-15, 20-22, 21-13 over second seeded Japanese in 51 minutes to set up a clash with Olympic champion Chen Yu Fei of China.

The last time the duo played, the match was marred by controversy with Sindhu being penalised a point by the umpire for delaying tactics during the Badminton Asia Championships semifinals. Sindhu came into the match with a 13-9 head-to-head record and dished out another fine performance to notch up her 14th victory over the reigning World Champion.

Nothing separated the two in the initial phase with Sindhu depending on her cross court slices and drops to trouble Yamaguchi, who blew a three-point lead to allow the Indian move to an 11-9 break.

Yamaguchi reeled off five match points, only for Sindhu return the favour with seven straight points to move to a 19-14 lead.

Sindhu, however, sent the shuttle long before moving to five game points and sealing it when an off-balance Yamaguchi sent the shuttle to the net again.

Yamaguchi allowed Sindhu to jump to an 11-5 advantage at the interval after winning 10 of the last 11 points without much ado.

After the break, Sindhu was called for a service fault and soon Yamaguchi fought her way to 11-13 before going long. The Japanese played some good shots to claw back at 16-16.

A quick smash and a precise on the line return gave two game points to the Japanese. Sindhu saved two but faltered on her serve and then sent the shuttle long as the match went to the decider.

Sindhu went into the mid-game intervals with a six point advantage in the third game. Yamaguchi seemed to be facing problem with her back, which affected her stroke play.

Sindhu led 15-11 when Yamaguchi committed errors in her return to serve. The Indian soon unleashed her smashes and another punch-clear gave her eight match points, which she converted on second attempt.

A journey from sprinter to boxing World Champion

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, May 20: "Why are there no girls playing, is boxing only a men's sport?" A young and innocent Nikhat Zareen, who was training to be a sprint runner, had once questioned her father.

It was, perhaps, just a mere coincidence or destiny, but that moment would turn out to be life-defining for the newly-crowned flyweight World Champion.

It all started when Mohammad Jameel, a former footballer and cricketer, decided to take his daughters out to play one summer evening.

"I told them we'll go and play in the ground so that they learn something. Someone went to play basketball, one played handball etc.," he told this agency. "After observing for a couple of days I saw Nikhat's body language and I knew she'd be a sport person. So, I bought a tracksuit and told her we'll go train tomorrow."

Jameel trained Nikhat for 100m and 200m and she had inherited

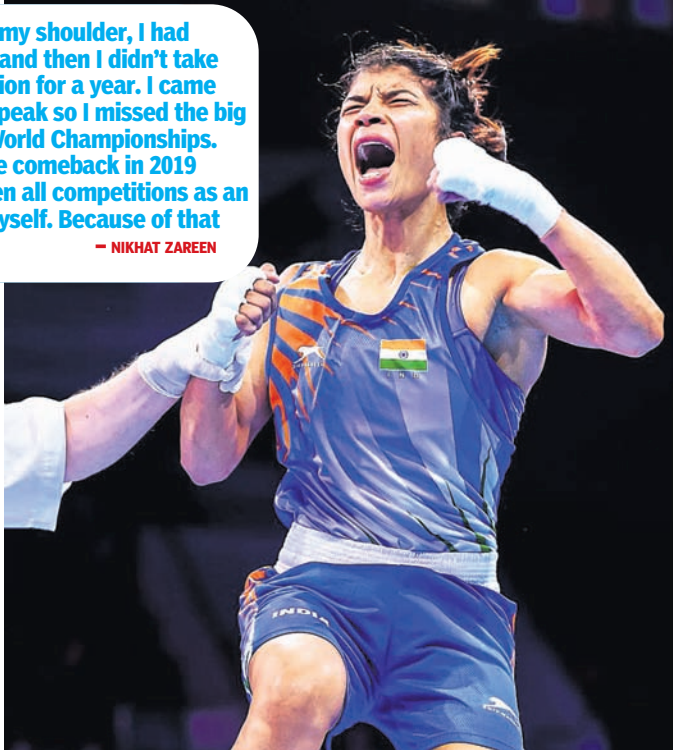

"In 2017, I dislocated my shoulder, I had to go under surgery and then I didn't take part in any competition for a year. I came back in 2018 but I wasn't at my peak so I missed the big tournaments CWG, Asiad and World Championships. But I didn't give up and after the comeback in 2019 haven't looked back. I have taken all competitions as an opportunity and I believed in myself. Because of that here I'm today" her father's sporting genes. She was a natural and soon she was the district champion. Then one day boxing caught her fancy.

"Where I used to go to train with my father some Urban Games where going on. And I saw that all sports had girls except for boxing," Nikhat recalled hours after her gold medal winning feat. "I asked him 'why are there no girls playing, is boxing only a men's sport?'"

Jameel was taken aback, but he explained to Nikhat that boxing was the sport of the courageous, irrespective of gender. "I told her you need to be mentally strong, have power and speed for boxing.

You need to have the courage and strength to hit the person in front of you," he said.

Nikhat's reply was simple but filled with conviction: "Main khelungi (I will play)". Soon after, she was training with boys as girls didn't take up boxing in Nizamabad.

"She had to train with boys, run with them. Initially, she got hurt a little bit while sparring in the beginning. But she started gaining confidence and started punching the same children who had hit her earlier," Jameel said.

"We knew she would do well among the girls because of the speed and strength she had developed playing with boys. Girls couldn't even touch her at the nationals," he said with pride.

With boxing came vests and training shorts and coming from a Muslim household, Nikhat and her parents were subjected to several taunts and comments. "This district is a rural one. No one has that much knowledge of sports here. A girl especially from a Muslim community is coming to play people didn't know about it.

"It was when she won a medal at nationals then people got to know more. Many would say kya hai?, kaise kapde hain?, kya figure hai? maar lag jaega toh kaun shaadi karega?, life kharaab ho jaeegi. (What is this? What sort of figure she has? If she gets hurt, who will marry her? Her life will be ruined). I used to just listen."

It didn't take long for Nikhat to stamp her authority as she won her first sub-junior national title followed by the junior World Championship a year later.

Today, she's only the fifth Indian boxer to have a world championship gold under her belt and only second, apart from MC Mary Kom, to achieve the feat outside India.

She rose the ranks in the senior level as well, winning an array of medals in international events, including two golds at the Strandja Memorial, a bronze in the 2019 Asian Championships, while also winning the nationals multiple times.
